Seller shall perform the Scope of Supply and Services as per the current state of the art and professional conduct valid in Austria at the time of its performance. The Contractor shall ensure that its products have the necessary quality (e.g. solidity) at any given date. This means, the products by themselves, with respect to time-related details regarding dates, periods and intervals (called time details in the following) and also in interaction with other products, shall work, function and shall be used in such a manner that the purpose of the Client contract can be achieved without any problem.
- 7.2 The Scope of Supply and Services of the Seller might become a part of a complex total plant to be installed. Therefore, any shortfall of the Seller's performance of his obligations will most likely cause problems within the total project organization, leading to additional costs, for instance in connection with postponement of deadlines in the network plan, third party claims, impairment of logistics, delay in the acceptance by the final Client, idle time etc. The impact on costs will be particularly severe in case the Client's scope of Supply is part of a total plant installed outside Austria. Therefore, Seller shall take special precautions for the diligent and timely performance of his obligations considering the aforementioned circumstances. Seller shall especially acquire all the information, which is to be taken into consideration for the proper performance of his obligations under the specific prevailing conditions of the route of transport and of the destination of its Scope of Supply and Services and for the integration of them into the total plant.

In particular, the Contractor may only invoke Buyer's failure to provide documents in case Buyer fails to provide such documents within a reasonable time despite Contractor's notification of default. In such a case the deadlines shall be postponed by the duration of Buyer's delay and free of costs for the Buyer. The new deadlines extended by the time of Buyer's delay shall be deemed as the new deadlines subject to contractual penalties if any. In any case of delay or risk of delay Seller shall carry out its Supply and Services in a such flexible manner as to minimize the delay. In case of Seller's default the Buyer shall be entitled to all statutory rights. In particular, the Buyer shall have the right to claim damages in place of performance and to rescind the Order/Contract after expiry of a reasonable grace period. In case Buyer claims for damages, the Seller shall have the right to prove that the breach of contract is not attributable to him.
- 7.9 Seller shall inform the Buyer directly as soon as he knows that he will not be able to meet any agreed deadlines about the details of the delay by stating the reasons and the estimated duration in writing. Acceptance of late performance shall not be deemed as a waiver by the Buyer with respect to any rights hereunder or under statutory law.
